Stouffer sawmill destroyed by fire Tuesday

Firemen battle intense heat, save trucks, stock of lumber

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

A fire which began early Tuesday morning has destroyed Stouffer's Lumber Mill, located near Halls Lake. The cause of the blaze is not yet known, but mill owner Elgin Stouffer estimates that damages could be as high as $200,000.

Stouffer, who was awakened at about 5 a.m. by the sound of the burning mill, said the fire was already quite advanced by the time he notified the Stanhope Fire Department and reached the lumber yard, located in a valley beneath his home.

"It was only half an hour between when I first saw the fire and when the roof caved in," Stouffer said. "The fire was very hot and burned very fast. We were lucky it happened in the morning when everything was wet with dew and there was no wind," he added.

Although fire fighters were unable to save the main building and the expensive production machinery which it housed, they did manage to contain the blaze and save the trucks and piles of lumber that were also in the yard.

Stouffer said he has no plans to replace the destroyed building and continue operations of the mill, which employs two other men besides himself. Stouffer noted that sales at the lumber mill have been good and there has been no problem with production, but said the fire will bring an end to the ten year old operation.

"I'm too old to start again," he said.

These structural supports and pieces of machinery are all that remain of Stouffer's Lumber Mill following a fire which began early Tuesday morning. Although some equipment and finished lumber was saved, the building which housed the saw mill was completely destroyed.

MOE monitoring oil in river

Ontario's Environment Ministry is monitoring a pollution problem on the Drag River in Haliburton, but an MOE official says the situation appears to pose no danger to fish or people. Heating oil from a ruptured tank has been seeping into the river since February, but steps have now been taken to contain it in a well tile and a small boom, from which it can be skimmed off without flowing downstream and into Head Lake.

Don Grabowski of the MOE's Gravenhurst office said the oil is believed to have come from an underground tank at the Good Medical Centre which was discovered to be leaking last fall and was replaced. Grabowski said at least 200 gallons of fuel oil may have soaked into the ground before the problem was discovered. The oil has reached the ground water table and this spring it began seeping out of an embankment behind the clinic and into the Drag River, where it was noticed by local residents as a slick on the water surface.

"About everything that can be done is being done," Grabowski said.

A metal barrier has been placed in the ground to divert the seepage into a well tile, from which it is skimmed off periodically. Any traces of oil which are not caught by the barrier and tile arrangement are contained in a small boom extending out into the river.

"I think they're getting most of it," Grabowski said, adding that any oil which does escape generally stays on the surface as a thin slick and quickly biodegrades.

There was some concern that the oil might effect pickerel which spawn in that part of the river, but no problems have been observed, according to the MOE official.

Board urged to make busing safer

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter
The Archie Stouffer Elementary

School Home and School Association has put forward a number of recommendations to the Transportation Committee of the Board of Education for the improvement of school bus safety. The recommendations, included in a brief presented to the committee on June 5, cite nine areas in which the association feels safety measures could be upgraded.

Among the measures advocated by the association is a recommendation that school bus drivers be certified annually by the Board of Education. In order to pass such an inspection, the association suggests that drivers demonstrate that they are competent defensive drivers, and are able to deal effectively with difficult, dangerous and emergency situations. The association recommends therefore, that school bus drivers be required to attend an approved defensive driving course, and that they have a valid St. John's Ambulance certificate in first aid training. The brief also suggests that drivers receive instruction from the local Board of Education in methods of maintaining student discipline in order that they may be better equipped to control student behaviour on buses.

In addition to the certification of drivers, the association also recommends that school buses be subject to frequent inspections to ensure that they are mechanically fit. The inspections, the group says, should be conducted by a licensed, authorized mechanic who is not employed by the company that holds the busing contract.

The Home and School Association also expresses concern over the procedures used by students when crossing roads as well as the conduct of students. The group recommends that students receive instruction in the proper way to cross roads and be taught rules of conduct for riding on school buses. These rules of conduct, the brief recommends, should also be sent to the parents of newly registered children and to all parents at the beginning of each school year. Actual practice in crossing procedure on the first day of the new school year is also recommended for students in Kindergarten and Grade one. These measures, the Legacy of poor roads haunting, Dysart may set higher standard

Concerned about the cost of maintaining sub standard roads that fall into municipal hands, Dysart et al council may formulate a policy that would require all development roads to meet specific width, grade and surface quality requirements.

The problem was given a thorough airing Monday when council considered a request from Hasley Developments for water access lots on Miskwabi Lake. The company is seeking approval to provide access to the lots from property it owns adjacent to existing cottage properties, and said it would build a road to the new lots suitable for "emergency use" only.

The proposal was rejected by council, who disagree with the water access concept as proposed by Hasley and want the lots serviced by a road that would meet criteria to be established by the municipality.

Poor quality roads to cottage developments are a source of ongoing frustration for the municipality, which must struggle with rapidly rising maintenance and construction costs while provincial grant support for roads is falling. While current provincial housing ministry regulations discourage cottage developments on private

This year's Kinsmen Home Show in Haliburton featured a number of attractive displays by area business people. The show, which ran from Friday through Sunday, drew a large number of visitors to the Dysart arena.

Police news

General Occurrences

During the period of June 4 to 10, personnel at Minden Detachment investigated the following occurrences: 11 motor vehicle accidents in which four persons were injured, and 61 general occurrences, including nine thefts and four break and enters.

Motorcycle Accident

Ian Coltman, age 34, of RR 2, Minden, received major injuries and was taken to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay after motorcycle flipped over on a curve on Highway 35, one kilometre south of Minden. The accident occurred at 9:20 p.m. Wednesday, June 6. Coltman was southbound and rounding a curve when the 1974 Honda flipped over and slid into the east ditch. It sustained an estimated $800 damage.

Marijuana Charge

On June 4, PC Boyd Jarvis stopped a vehicle for a traffic violation on Highland St. in Haliburton. He noticed a book on the floor of the car entitled "Marijuana Growers Guide". This led to a search of the vehicle. In the glove compartment he found a tin of seeds. In the trunk he discovered several planters, a watering can and some potting soil. A further investigation at a cottage in Monmouth Township led to the discovery of 44 styrofoam cups, each containing a 2" marijuana plant, more potting soil and seeds.

Charged with possession of a narcotic and cultivation of marijuana is John David Sutherland, age 18, of Rexdale.

Thefts

The following is a partial list of items reported stolen from throughout Haliburton County in the past week: two flags from a Dorset motel, valued at $120; a canoe from the Irondale River, valued at $500; an outboard motor, binoculars, chainsaw, radio and other items from a cottage on Lutterworth Lake, valued at $800; a pump and tank from Pine Lake near Gooderham, worth $300; an aluminum boat from the Raven Lake Landing, valued at $200; an outboard motor, saw, and stereo from a cottage on Big Hawk Lake, worth a total of $700; a chainsaw from the Leslie Frost Centre, valued at $100; a barbecue from Monmouth Township worth $150; and some hot dogs from a cottage on Hawk Lake valued at $2.

Accident

At 2:00 a.m., June 10, on South Lake Road near Hospitality Rd. in Snowdon Township, a '78 Chrysler went out of control and rolled over. Two of the seven occupants received minor injuries. The driver, David Watt, age 24, of Toronto, was charged with impaired driving.

Correction

In a story last week on the Kanawa canoe museum site, a quotation was incorrectly attributed to Ross Carver. In fact the statement was made by Larry Podmore. The Echo regrets the error, and any inconvenience it may have caused Ross Carver or Larry Podmore.

Tossing pennies into a pool was just one of the activities which local children took part in last Friday night at Victory Street School. The annual Fun Night, included food, music, a bake sale, and games and prizes for children of all ages.

Busing safety concerns local parents association believes, will make it easier for drivers to maintain order in buses and consequently reduce distractions.

The brief is also critical of overcrowding on school buses. The association recommends that a limit of three small children or two large children per seat be implemented as a way of avoiding dangerous circumstances that may result from overcrowding.

In order that the stress on drivers may be reduced, the brief also recommends that an adequate ratio of supervising adults to students be established and adhered to for long excursions. Long trips, the report notes, present special dangers due to the children's exuberance and the added pressure and fatigue which the driver is subject to in such circumstances.

In the event of an accident or a mechanical breakdown, the association suggests that the Board of Education establish a "clear set of procedures to be followed." Familiarity with these procedures, the brief states, should be part of the requirements for the certification of drivers. By establishing such a set of guidelines, confusion at the time of an accident would be reduced and safety increased.

In the brief, the association also addresses the question of seat belt installation in school buses. In this respect, the association notes that the installation and use of seat belts in passenger automobiles has been credited with a marked reduction in automobile accident fatalities. Although the association does not put forth any definite recommendations concerning this matter, the brief does state that the group intends to investigate the question of seatbelts further and will report to the Board on this issue at a later date.

The recommendations included in the brief will be considered by the Transportation Committee and will be presented to the Board of Education at a future Board meeting.

Area delegates set for convention

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

This week, 10 delegates will travel to Ottawa to represent the Victoria-Haliburton Liberal Association at the party's leadership convention. Of the eight delegates, chosen by the association last month, two are classified as youth delegates and will represent members of the party's youth organization.

Although none of the eight delegates come from the Haliburton area, two of the alternate delegates are from the county. Michael Sawyer of Haliburton was chosen as the alternate youth delegate while Harold Herlihey of Wilberforce is one of three alternate regular party member delegates. If, for some reason, one of the eight delegates is unable to attend the convention, an alternate will be used to fill his place.

Representing Victoria-Haliburton

Sherborne et al council

At the May 14 meeting of the council of Sherborne, McClintock, Livingstone, Lawrence and Nightingale Townships, the following matters were considered:

Dell Page reported to council. He said the floating dock was in at the Raven Lake Landing. Council was advised that Ministry of Natural Resources personnel would be looking into the request of the municipality to acquire 9.2 acres of Crown Land for the use of the Roads Department for stock pile - equipment yard.

Page reported that maintenance at the municipal garbage disposal site in McClintock off Hwy. 60 was satisfactorily being done by Earl Nickason.

Page and the reeve noted that the man currently employed to do the Sherborne garbage disposal site maintenance was not satisfied with his hours. Council instructed the clerk to have prepared an advertisement to be placed in the Huntsville Forester to replace him.

Next on the agenda was the presentation given by Peter Webster from Ontario Hydro on their Four Area Study proposal announced on February 20, 1984. Webster informed council what has transpired since that date; and a general discussion took place. Many concerns were noted and council was given to understand that a further update from Ontario Hydro would be forthcoming.

Council extended their appreciation to Webster and Al Pertulla for their attendance and report to council. Next the upcoming Beef Barbeque to be held in the hamlet of Oxtongue Lake on August 4, 1984 was noted. Council had no objection to the Oxtongue Lake Volunteer Fire Department holding a Beef Barbeque and dance on August 4, 1984 within the premises of the Oxtongue Lake Community Centre and yard being those lands and premises located in Part Lot 4, Concession 11, McClintock Township.

Dave McDonald reported to council. The clerk indicated to council that McDonald's three months probation will expire on May 22, 1984. Council noted it is satisfied with his work and passed a resolution to increase his salary by $500 and put fringe benefits into effect.

Reeve Dalton MacDonald spoke to council about a recent quote made by an individual in respect to sale of a boat/motor and trailer. It was felt that since the inspections carried out McDonald would require the use of same that members of council should consider such acquisition. Council accepted the quote from Phil Cass for one - 40 h.p. motor with 16 foot steel boat with trailer at a total price of $800. Purpose: for the use of the building inspector to undertake inspections to water access only properties.

The clerk informed council that it was necessary to appoint a new Wolf Bounty Officer.

Dave McDonald was appointed Wolf Bounty Officer for the municipality. McDonald is to follow the regulations of the County as to "Marking" of said animal and the completion of "Affidavit of Application for Wolf Bounty". This appointment is at the pleasure of council.

Next on the agenda was the considering of "tariff of fees for the processing of applications made in respect of planning matters, the authority to pass such a by-law being the Planning Act, S.O. 1983, Section 68.

By-law No. 899 for the purpose to prescribe a Tariff of fees for the processing of applications made in respect of planning matters, was passed.

Council directed the clerk to make a cheque payable to the Ontario Association of Property Standards Officers Inc. in the amount of $30. This being membership fees for the period of April 1, 1984 to March 31, 1985.

Schedule "B" forming part of By-law No. 837 was amended to read to that already set out on Schedule "B" the following: 10. Issuance of a Temporary Building Permit...$10.

Three severance applications were presented and recommended for consent. Marylyn Jarvis and Don Shortreed declared interests

This Week

Euchre was one of the most popular activities during the Ontario Senior Games in Haliburton last week. Scores of people turned out on Thursday afternoon to test their skills with cards at the community centre. The games also featured a number of outdoor activities. Complete results appear in the story at right.

Senior games a success, top finishers earn prizes

Many local residents recently took part in the Ontario Senior Games held in Haliburton. During the three day event, prizes were awarded to the first, second and third place finishers in a wide variety of competitions.

First prize in the cribbage competition went to Ina Smith, while Marian Clift took second and Wes Stata finished third. Among the finalists in Scrabble were Helen McCracken, who won first prize, Mary Hannah who placed second and Marg Horsley who came in third. In checkers, Bruce Armstrong was first, followed by Frank Clarke, while in Chess, Sid Rowe took first and Bruce Armstrong received second prize. Lester Walling won first prize in the crokinole competition, with Vi Smith finishing second.

Many card players also competed in the Senior Games. The Euchre competition was won by Lucy Noah. May Eldridge finished second and Jim Aikman came in third. Betty Strang won first prize in the Bridge tournament, with Elva Robinson taking second prize and Douglas Hughes capturing third place.

In addition to these indoor games, a number of outdoor activities were held as part of the games. Grace Boice finished first in the ladies' golf tournament. Betty Dawson took second prize in the tournament and Gwen Taylor finished third. In the men's competition, Rex Boice and Lorne Coburn tied for first place. Glen Austin won second prize and Max Strang received third prize.

Shuffleboard and horseshoe tournaments were also held at Head Lake Park. Bruce Armstrong finished first in the horseshoe competition, followed by Jack Burch in second place and Willis Walker who took third. In shuffleboard, Laura Hartwick won first prize. Second prize was won by Stuart Martin and Ray Knapp received third prize.

Two bowling contests were also included in the three days of activities. First prize for five-pin bowling went to Wes Stata, with Ray Knapp taking second prize and Norm Cliff finishing third. Gala Heal, Cy Heal and Doris Craig won the Indoor Lawn Bowling competition. Alf Palmer, Simone Palmer and Bruce Armstrong won second prize and Jim Ward, Bessie Burk and Vera Ward took third place.

A dance contest was also held as part of the Senior Games. First prize went to Lillian and Frank Clarke, second to Mary and Lester Walling and third to Vi Smith and Sid Rowe. Music was supplied by Harold Brodhagen on his fiddle.

Arena work set to begin

Dysart et al council has awarded a contract for electrical work at the Haliburton arena to Lewis Electric of Harcourt. The firm's bid of $9220 was the lowest received for the work, which will be carried out later this year in conjunction with planned renovations to the arena.

Two tenders for the construction and renovation phase of the project were received Monday, and they will be passed on to a building committee for review and recommendation.

Total cost of the project, which will include construction of two new dressing rooms, relocation of washrooms, and improvements to the lobby area, is expected to be about $60,000. Some of the work will be completed this summer, with the bulk of it expected to be carried out in the weeks between the end of the Hockey Haven Camp and the start of the 1984-85 minor hockey season.

Poor roads prove ongoing headache

roads, the municipality has a legacy of sub standard roads which were assumed into the municipal system by previous councils in years when no road construction standards were spelled out and enforced. Road superintendent Howard Roberts said his crews spend much of their time repairing and maintaining poor quality cottage roads which would be very expensive to rebuild.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said council could use its authority to demand that all roads in future subdivisions be built to standards that are acceptable to the municipality. Councillor John Parish had reservations about the idea, however. He said that the cost of building good roads on difficult terrain is so high that the pace of development would be slowed considerably in the municipality. Parish said that when lots sell for $100,000 as they do in some Muskoka locations, developers can pass the cost of road construction on to buyers more easily than they can with lower cost lots common in Haliburton County. Fearrey countered that if council allows subdivisions on "good lakes" without requiring high standard, year round roads to service them, it is "shortchanging the taxpayer." Fearrey said it has cost taxpayers money to "clean up messes" left over from past councils, while developers have been allowed to "walk away with a quick buck."

The reeve said good roads enable cottagers to use their properties year round, providing a boost to the local economy. Only under "special circumstances" should the municipality permit developers to opt for private roads, Fearrey said.

Councillor Sid Cooper pointed out that in the past, councils may have had little choice about the quality of roads in developments, but that now council does have a choice.

After lengthy discussions of the matter, councillors agreed to pass it on to the road committee for recommendations.

Anglican church to expand facilities

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

Members of St. George's Anglican Church in Haliburton will proceed with construction plans for an addition and renovations that could cost up to $250,000. The work will include an addition to the south side of the church, closest to Mountain Street, as well as renovations to the existing building.

Reverend John Phillips of St. George's, said most of the funds needed for the project will come from the parish. Funds also will be obtained from the Diocese and from the community through special fund raising events. Phillips said the construction project will not interfere with or slow down other parish activities.

"It is quite a task," Phillips said, but added that "It is not the centre of the Church's existence."

Phillips said other local churches have already offered their facilities for St. George's services while construction is underway.

The decision to expand and improve the church was prompted by a shortage of seating space in the existing building. Presently, seating in the church is limited to 90 people. The extension which will measure approximately 40 feet by 40 feet, will increase the seating capacity. In addition to enlarging the congregation's seating area, the new section of the church will also house a sanctuary and provide new office space. A hall will also be constructed in the basement of the addition.

Renovations planned for the existing building include repairs to brick work on the outside walls of the church and repairs to the tower, as well as the construction of a new kitchen in the basement of the church. Plans to upgrade the insulation of the church are also included in the estimated construction costs.

Phillips said that as yet a decision has not been made on the design and style of the new section, but he noted that he hopes the addition will blend in and enhance the original building. Phillips said the church's planning committee will be "very open to input from the community" in this respect. Although construction could begin as early as next spring, Phillips said he will also be willing to spend more time in the planning stages if necessary in order to assure that the addition is both appropriate and feasible.

Dysart wants housing survey

Ontario's housing ministry will be asked to approve a municipal non profit housing survey for Dysart et al. Council decided Monday it wants the survey undertaken "at the earliest possible date".

Purpose of the survey would be to identify a need for rental accommodation aimed particularly at senior citizens. A similar survey carried out three years ago failed to show that there is a shortage of affordable accommodation for seniors, but council believes the results may not have been valid.

Councillors noted that the survey was carried out by housing ministry officials with very little direct input from the municipality, a fact which may have accounted in part for the small number of responses that were received. This time council hopes to convince seniors that completing the confidential survey questionnaires will help identify a need for government assisted seniors housing in the community.

Council's request for the survey will be sent to housing ministry officials for consideration.

The members of St. George's Anglican Church have approved a plan to construct an addition on the Mountain Street side of the church. The expansion, which will cost approximately $250,000, could begin as early as next year.

Get tough

Dysart et al council found itself grappling with a growing problem on Monday, the problem of how to encourage development while at the same time maintaining firm control over matters which effect the municipality as a whole. Specifically, council considered a request from a development company which wants to create water access lots and provide no more than a bulldozer trail for emergency vehicle access to the properties. On the one hand, the project would bring more cottagers to the area, provide increased tax revenue, create business for local merchants and services -- in short, all the traditional benefits commonly associated with an increase in the stock of cottage lots. On the other hand, water access lots serviced by a very poor quality road hardly fall into the realm of desirable development. To its credit, council was quick to react against the proposal outlined on Monday. Councillors decided that they would seek some form of compromise whereby the developer would have to build a better quality road, even though it would remain in private hands, with maintenance to be paid for by the property owners rather than by the municipality.

This kind of compromise may be acceptable for the specific project considered Monday, but it is not one that council is likely to agree to very often. In the long term, council must get tough with developers who want to provide as little as possible, make as much as possible, and disappear as fast as possible. It must demand that all development meet high standards, if it wants to ensure that the municipality not only grows but improves.

Council has in fact been trying to protect the community's interest for a long time. Dysart was the first municipality in the county to adopt an official plan spelling out strict rules for development. Despite this evidence of sound planning, however, council continues to grapple with the complexities of what is best for whom. Should it demand that all roads in new developments be built to municipal standards, so that they can be assumed into the municipal system and maintained at relatively low cost? Or should it permit developers to compromise on road quality, so long as buyers understand that the roads will not be maintained by the municipality? If it demands top quality roads, will developers exploit other opportunities rather than pay the costs of meeting Dysart's requirements? Is council obligated to help developers create $20,000 lots, or would the municipality be better off if the requirement for good roads pushed lot prices up?

The answers to these questions will not be found without some soul searching, but a case can be made for requiring good roads, even if the consequences are a reduced pace of development and higher cost lots. Who would lose if developers were forced to create bigger lots and charge substantially higher prices for them in order to spread the cost of road building among buyers within a particular development? Not the municipality, and not local businesses. If a requirement for better roads meant that developers had to create lots with bigger lake frontage and charge more for them, the community would gain on two counts. In the first place, lakes would be a lot less crowded than they are now, which would certainly be better for the quality of life property owners are looking for. And in the second place, people who buy lots worth $40,000, $50,000 or more, build cottages that are bigger, more lavish and consequently, much more expensive. And the taxes those cottagers would pay would be substantially higher than on lesser properties and dwellings.

In short, council would not, in all probability, make a mistake if it got tough on developers. In the long term, a policy that required good roads in all developments and pushed land prices up, might ensure a less troubled future for the area.

The end of the line

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

I am writing this letter to express my opinion about the contents of the articles in both the Times and the Echo concerning Glebe Park as the selection for the Kanawa Canoe Museum.

(1) It would seem to me that Councillor Kenney was quite right to condemn a free choice vote before which people were told what the desired outcome should be.

(2) Reeve Fearrey mentioned that Councillor Kenney's comments harkened back to the old loggerhead days between Minden and Haliburton but I feel that at some point in time the line must be drawn as to how much toe tramping one accepts before fighting back.

(3) The comment that the Township of Dysart et al did not stoop to meddling in the decision seems rather redundant when the decision was already directed in their favour.

(4) One of the largest canoe type activities in the County transpires at the White Water Preserve and it would seem that having the Canoe Museum somewhere near it would be a very tourist attractive situation.

It appears that Professor Wipper expressed the desire to be left out of the decision yet everything seems to be directed around comments he reportedly made in a private conversation with Mr. Frank Wallace.

This letter is but the tip of the iceberg as far as the feelings involved on this subject by myself and many others with whom I have spoken.

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Victorian Order of Nurses Peterborough Board of Management members, I want to thank you for presenting the Victorian Order of Nurses feature article in the May 9, 1984 edition of your paper.

It is the hope of the Ontario and National V.O.N. offices to have every V.O.N. Branch improve their communities awareness of the services available. Your article, along with the captioned picture, has greatly aided our cause.

Thanks again.

Yours truly,
Patricia Faulkner

To The Editor:

I think we should take a look at our education system in Haliburton, when any student can be subjected to ridicule, embarrassment and humiliation in front of friends and classmates.

Recently my son ate a spaghetti dinner that was spiced with garlic. The following day he went to his first class and everything was normal. He then went to his second class and was told to move his desk out in the hall, where he stayed for his second, third and fourth classes. In the next class he was allowed into the classroom but was segregated from the rest of the class.

I do not object to a teacher disciplining a student when necessary.

I strongly object to a teacher dictating what my child should eat.

I spoke to the school principal in regard to this incident, and I was very distressed to discover that it was left to the discretion of each teacher to remove any student who had a strong odor of garlic or leaks on his or her breath.

I would like to know that this type of humiliation would not happen to any student ever again.

Sincerely,
Thelma Dalr,
concerned parent

ACID RAIN STUNTS FUTURE FORESTS

In Germany, it's called Waldsterben -- literally forest death. By latest count, 35% of West Germany's famed forests are dead and dying. The agent of this fatal illness is air pollution, increasingly acid rain.

It may seem far away, unless, like me, you've always wanted a glimpse of the storybook Black Forest -- an area where half the trees are now showing signs of irreversible sickness. Even then, you may reassure yourself that Canada's forests are still vast and healthy, requiring only more diligent replanting and careful control of pests.

But wait, a few miles across our southern border, the forests of the eastern seaboard are in

Here we are fast approaching that time of the year which is better known as the good old summertime. This is the time of the year when we wonder what we are going to be doing and what is there to pass our time away in those lazy, crazy days of summer. For all of you who will be coming here on a vacation and to those who are fortunate enough to live here in the Highlands of Haliburton the year round, summer means different things to different people when it comes to recreation. For many of you it will mean that its that time of the year when you can go swimming, play golf, tennis, baseball, go boating and water ski, hiking and oh yes, even hockey in the summertime at the Haliburton arena. These are only a few of the many different things that one can do here during those sunny, summer days. Summer will be with us until the end of August and we can look forward as usual to thousands of visitors coming into the Highlands of Haliburton to camp, stay at a cottage or book into one of the many excellent motels and hotels in the area. In glancing over some of the coming attractions I can assure you that it promises to be a summer packed right full of practically every kind of entertainment that a summer has to offer. The summer is really a beautiful time of the year with nice warm weather that gives everyone interested the opportunity to take part in outdoor sports, go swimming or boating or just plain go on a hike and stroll through the bush. Besides these things just mentioned providing some good exercise, lets face it, it's also just a wee bit of heaven here in earth. The Haliburton Highlands is where it's all at and we have it all here just waiting for your arrival. So why not come right along and bring the entire family and enjoy two or three months or two or three weeks of nature at it's rugged best. When the vacationers do arrive here in the Highlands how they are treated and how they are made welcome will depend largely on people just like you and me. If they like it here they will stay and come back again. In other words we have to deliver the service if we expect to get the business.

I received a letter in the mail this week that has information that concerns each and everyone of use. It comes from an organization known as Toc Alpha. The youth organization is forming an alumni association and they are asking for our help. Toc Alpha, in case you are not aware, is an organization for young people ages 14-21 that believes in the philosophy of a lifestyle independent of alcohol and other non-medical drugs. Their Christmas conferences have attracted thousands of young people over the years. But as a youth group, when members reach a certain age, they are no longer eligible to be part of Toc Alpha. Please see an advertisement on another page in this paper.

Len Creelman and Ken Rydman were recent guest speakers at the Rotary Club of Haliburton. They talked about the possible expansion of the Squash Club to include a fitness facility. Ideas and comments from the club were asked for and details of possible costs were given.

A Haliburton woman phoned me just the other day asking me if I could convey the following message to our readers and especially dog owners. Summer will soon be with us and along will come those hot and humid days like we had last week. Dog owners are reminded not to leave their pets in their cars with the windows closed as the inside of the vehicle gets hotter than an oven. This seems like a good bit of advice that should be adhered to.

Municipal employees were busy last week widening the road from the highway into Dover's spring. They have used their heavy equipment to cut into the banks on different sections of the road. This should be a great improvement in this area.

The members of the Haliburton United Church received some very good news last week when it was announced that sufficient pledges have been received to finish the work on the outside of the church. The members are to be congratulated on coming through with this extra money which was above what was previously pledged. Yes once again they came through with flying colours.

At a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton Art Ward announced a proposed baseball trip to the city of Toronto to see the Toronto Blue Jays who are really hot these days meet the Milwaukee Brewers. The trip has been planned for Tuesday, June 19 with the bus to leave Haliburton around noon. Participants will enjoy a tour of Ontario Place, and a group dinner, then on to the old ball game. It all sounds exciting, especially if you are a ball fan.

Ray and Chris Johnson will be the guest singers at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre in Wilberforce at a Fellowship of Faith Weekend to be held on June 15, 16 and 17. The theme for the weekend will be "Responding to Jesus in the Market Place".

I think that we have all heard the song "Roll out the Barrel". Well in Haliburton some of the late night arrivals are rolling out the barrels alright, directly from Head Lake Park into the Drag River. The municipal employees are getting very annoyed at having to pull these barrels out of the water.

Report from Parliament

By Bill Scott M.P.

On May 29, the Hon. Bennett Campbell, Minister of Veterans Affairs, introduced Bill C-39, An Act to amend the War Veterans Allowance Act, the Civilian War Pensions and Allowances Act and certain other Acts in relation thereto.

Some of the measures in the Bill are:

- (1) Canadian merchant seamen who served aboard Canadian or allied vessels off Korea during the years 1950-53 will be able to apply for Civilian War Allowances.
- (2) Lawyers from the Bureau of Pensions Advocate will now be able to represent War Veterans Allowance (WVA)/Civilian War Allowance (CVA) recipients at hearings before the War Veterans Allowance Board.
- (3) WVA/CVA recipients under age 65 will receive increases in July. The increase will be $20 per month for single recipients and $25 per month for married recipients.
- (4) All single WVA recipients over 65 will receive the $50 Guaranteed Income Supplement increase proposed by the Minister of Health and Welfare. It is to be paid in two stages $25 in July and a further $25 in December 1984.
- (5) After April 1, 1986, recipients of War Veterans and Civilian War Allowances over age 65 who receive Old Age Security/Guaranteed Income Supplement will no longer have to report their income to the Department of Veterans Affairs. Instead they will only have to submit this information to OAS/GIS Programs.
- (6) The Aging Veterans Program, designed to assist elderly veterans to remain as self-sufficient as possible in their own homes, will now offer upgraded services to other groups of veterans. The Program has up to now been restricted to addressing the needs arising from pensionable war disabilities. Extension will go ahead in four stages: October 1, 1984: War disability pensioners 65 years and older who also receive War Veterans Allowance. - Veteran WVA recipients 75 years and older. January 1, 1986: Remaining veteran WVA recipients 65 to 74 years of age. January 1, 1987: War disability pensioners 65 years and older who are unable to receive WVA due to receipt of Old Age Security Benefits. January 1, 1988: Veterans with theatre-of-actual-war service 65 years and older whose OAS benefits bar them from receiving WVA.

(7) A transportation service will be added to the Aging Veterans Program. Under it Veterans Affairs may pay the transportation costs needed to allow participants to leave the home for shopping, banking, etc.

These changes are welcome, but they do not go far enough toward meeting the needs of Canada's veterans. They are housekeeping measures which have been long overdue. It is regrettable that the Minister did not agree to extend the full benefit of the Guaranteed Income Supplement to married WVA recipients. As well, the Aging Veterans Program should be made accessible to WVA recipients immediately rather than phased in over four years. If 65 year old veterans will be needing the benefits of this program in four years, then those who are currently 65 should have them now.

Queen's Park Report

Should the farmers of Ontario be protected by a 'Right to Farm Act'? Is such a bill necessary in order to encourage the preservation of agricultural land by protecting farmers who carry on normal farming operations from nuisance law suits by non-farm neighbours?

I believe we need such a bill and I am prepared to support such legislation, which has been introduced into the Legislature by my colleague Jack Riddell, M.P.P. for Huron-Middlesex.

This is the time of year when farmers are actively involved in the planting of another year's crops. When non-agricultural land uses extend into agricultural areas, however, agricultural operations often become the subject of nuisance law suits. As a result, agricultural producers are sometimes forced to cease operations. Many others are discouraged from making investments in farm improvements. My colleague's legislation attempts to address this problem by providing a significant advantage for the farmer in conducting his farming operation.

In rural Ontario, the farm population represents only 22% of the total rural population. This situation often leads to disputes over odours, noise and dust. In order for the agricultural industry to remain viable, farmers must be assured of their right to carry on normal farming practices free from harassment and restrictions.

The Right to Farm Act provides that a farming operation may not be declared a nuisance if:

- (a) It was established before the use of neighbouring land changed and was not a nuisance when it began, even if conditions have changed in the area where the farm is located.
- (b) Complies with guidelines for the conduct of farming operations established by the Minister of Agriculture and Food.
- (c) Conforms to generally accepted practices for farming operations.

In the United States, some 30 states have enacted 'right to farm' laws to resolve land use conflicts.

Ontario is becoming more urbanized and this has a dramatic effect on agriculture. A farmer's right to farm has now become a serious problem in this province. A new approach to deal with these conflicts is required which establishes certain basic safeguards which are essential to a viable agriculture industry.

If you would like to make comment on my remarks, I would be pleased to hear from you.

Rural task force to meet in Lindsay

An Ontario Liberal Task Force studying problems confronting rural municipalities will hold hearings in Lindsay on Wednesday, June 13, chaired by John Eakins, MPP for the area. The Task Force was formed by Opposition Leader David Peterson to investigate ways Ontario's rural municipalities can address current socio-economic difficulties.

"The rural municipality faces unique problems," Eakins said in a press release announcing the meeting. "Changing demographics, mounting unemployment, a fragile agricultural and industrial base contribute to the pressures. It is our hope we can uncover ways in which the Ontario Government can help rural communities survive the current recession and flourish in any anticipated recovery."

The Task Force will consult with a number of municipal organizations, including the Association of Municipalities of Ontario, the Rural Section of AMO, and Ontario Small Urban Municipalities, as well as hold a series of public meetings across the province.

The Lindsay meeting will be held in the Town Hall, 180 Kent Street West, at 9:00 a.m., June 13. Task Force members include Eakins; environment critic Murray Elston; agriculture critic Jack Riddell; housing and municipal affairs critic Herb Epp; Gordon Miller; and Robert McKessock.

Eakins, Mayor of Lindsay for six years prior to his election to the Ontario Legislature in 1975 and a former president of the town and village section of the municipal association, said the Task Force will search for ways to redevelop and renew the province's smaller centres. Questions to be addressed include:

- How can skilled labour be kept in the small towns? Can apprenticeship and manpower training programs be made more suitable to the smaller industrial facility?
- How can the revenue picture for smaller municipalities be improved?

proved? Can the erosion of municipal government autonomy be reversed?

- Improved transportation between rural communities is needed. How can more effective and viable links between small centres be developed?
- There is a need for a workable policy on the locating of industrial facilities. Can smaller municipalities be assisted to more effectively compete for jobs and investment?
- Rural municipalities need a stronger voice in government. How can their political clout be strengthened?

Area students spend day at Centre

Twelve Haliburton County youngsters spent a day at the Leslie Frost Natural Resources Centre after winning a poster contest sponsored by the Huntsville office of the provincial Ministry of the Environment.

The students travelled to the Frost Centre south of Dorset Tuesday to take part in a number of environmental related activities, including water testing and collecting species of aquatic life.

Nipissing MPP Mike Harris, parliamentary assistant to environment minister Andy Brandt, was on hand to congratulate the youngsters.

Taking part in the day were Kyle Hewitt, Kendra Curry, Jenny Debes, Jodi McCracken, Royce Smith and Kirk MacDuff of J. Douglas Hodgson elementary school; Holly Archer and Sheri Wesley of Archie Stouffer elementary school; and Andrew Graves, Scott Ellis, Tracy Main and Cindy Steadman of Cardiff elementary school.

From the Chamber

This year for the first time, Ontario is celebrating Senior Citizens Month. For the past 23 years we have honoured our senior citizens with a week of special events. This year, in response to requests from seniors organizations, the Ontario secretariat for social development have expanded their program for the full month of June in order to accommodate even more activities.

Since 1984 marks Ontario's Bicentennial, one of the programs organized through the secretariat for social development is "Partners 84 - Looking Back Ontario". This program encourages seniors from around the province to meet with young people through their local schools and to share with them their thoughts and remembrances of Ontario's past.

Halimar Lodge will feature the Father's Day Open Windsurfing Races on June 16 and 17. This is actually the second year the race has taken place. Guy and Wendy Ramsay invite you to come and watch or participate. For more information phone Guy Ramsay at 705-457-1300.

Fresh water fishermen who plan on casting a line in Ontario this year and want to know when the pickerel and lake trout seasons open in the province or learn more about the new non resident angling licence system can find answers and information in the 1984 provincial fishing regulations. This booklet is available free of charge from the Chamber or the Ministry of Natural Resources.

The Municipality of Monmouth is planning its tenth annual amateur Talent Contest at the Country Good Times Weekend in Wilberforce July 14 and 15. All contestants are asked to register in advance. For more information call Donna at 705-448-2991.

June 28 to July 31 the Agnes Jamieson Gallery, located at the Minden Library Cultural Centre, is featuring the art of Janet McGhee who studied watercolour painting with Toronto artist Gordon Peters and minimal artist Peter Klisnyk of Cobourg.

We would like to welcome the following as new members in the Chamber of Commerce: Hazel's Treasures, RR #4, Huntsville (Highway 60, between Deerhurst and Hidden Valley) buys and sells antiques in a little country schoolhouse. Kingscote Lake Lodge, Box 70, Harcourt, Ontario, is a wilderness retreat at the southern access to Algonquin Provincial Park. The women's softball season is now in full swing around the county.

Hitters crack homers in local fastball action

Curry Motors hitters hammered out three home runs last Tuesday on their way to an 11-1 victory over Haliburton Kinsmen. Kevin Sisson, Bob Penfold and Neilson Sisson each put the ball out of the park, driving in runs that helped ensure the lopsided win.

Kevin Sisson's homer came in the first inning, with two men out. A subsequent ground rule double by Earl Bull could not be converted, and the top half of the inning ended with Curry Motors in front by one.

Haliburton Kinsmen were unable to get anything going in the bottom half of the first.

Barry Boice led off with a triple for the motormen in the second frame, but he was tagged in a bid to score. A single from Duff Mitchell was the only other hit of the inning, but it produced no run.

The Kinsmen's second inning saw Lyle Sawyer notch a single, but he was left stranded by two fly balls and a strikeout.

Bob Penfold began a stong third inning for Curry Motors with a home run. Ron Perrin moved to first when he was hit by a pitch, and a single from Kevin Sisson brought Perrin across. Sisson was thrown out in a race for second. Earl Bull then walked, and Neil Sisson cracked a homer that also scored Bull, to make it 5-1 for the motormen.

Kinsmen could not get anything going in their half of the third.

The fourth inning saw Curry Motors hitters continue their attack, as four more runs came across: Bob Penfold tagged a ground rule double and a single from Ron Perrin brought Penfold home. Earl Bull's single scored Perrin. Neilson Sisson and Barry Boice also singled, with Bull and Sisson completing the circuit before the third out.

The Kinsmen got on board in the bottom of the fourth as John Wilson singled and a subsequent one bagger by Roy Scott brought Wilson across.

In the top of the fifth, Curry Motors connected for two more runs as Duff Mitchell singled, stole a base and made it home, while Ron Perrin also crossed the plate after walking to first.

The game was called at the end of the fifth, leaving Curry Motors on top 11-1.

Beachli takes

Haliburton Lumber
The second game of the night was a tougher match, as Beachli Construction out-hit Haliburton Lumber for a 7-3 win.

Neither side put anyone across in the first inning. In the top of the second, Beachli batters engineered three runs. John Robinson, Derrell Stamp and Peter Fearrey each scored, aided by a two RBI single from Jerry Thivierge and a grounder to second base by Mike MacNaull, who was thrown out at first.

The third and fourth innings produced no change in the Beachli squad's three run advantage, but in the bottom of the fifth, Haliburton Lumber came back to tie the score.

With two men out, Mike Hatkoski tapped a single and Dave Nicholls got on safely when the Beachli third baseman committed an error. That set the stage for a three run homer by Bernie Nicholls that evened the game at three.

In the top of the seventh, Beachli hitters rallied for what proved to be the deciding runs. Mike MacNaull was walked, then Mark Schell hammered a home run that scored two. Bob Johnston followed with a single but he was caught on his way to second when Kevin Finch hit into a fielder's choice. John Robinson then doubled, and both he and Finch crossed the plate before the third out was called.

Haliburton Lumber had a chance to get the win or force extra innings, but they went down three straight in the bottom of the seventh to ensure Beachli's 7-3 win.

Thursday night's games were rained out and will be made up later in the schedule.

Minden Jrs. blast Wilberforce 24-5, Guilford takes Srs.

By HELEN BURK

Monday, June 11, Wilberforce travelled to Minden to take on the Minden Jrs.

The Minden Jrs. got a strong night from Andrea Burk both pitching and at the plate where she batted 6 for 6 and helped defeat Wilberforce 24-5. Nancy Denny also played well for Minden. Cindy Ablett had a triple in a losing cause. Sue Musclow took the loss.

In Minden on Tuesday night the two top teams, Minden Srs. and West Guilford, squared off in a real hitters' duel. West Guilford out hit the Minden Srs. and went on to win 18-12. It seemed everyone had their bats primed for this game. Guilford led all the way, but Minden didn't give up, as they loaded the bases in the bottom of the seventh but couldn't get the runs across the plate. Anne Hewson and Nelda Cully shared the loss and Joan McKay picked up the win.

On Wednesday night the Minden Srs. were handed their second loss in a row, as Wilberforce out batted them 18-12. Wilberforce was led by Kim Mumford, Anne Alden, and Cindy Ablett. Minden was led by Sue Pye and Helen Burk.

Reports from other teams were not available.

Trout earns trophy for angler

Submitted

Last weekend Haliburton Wildlife Reserve played host to the annual Scheffee, Curry, Roberts fishing derby. This was the third year for the event and it turned out to be a great success.

A trophy is presented each year to the fisherman who can produce the largest trout by 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Grant Scheffee had won the two previous years but this time around he was dethroned by his son Bill. Aided by Jack Curry, Bill Scheffee landed a five pound midfielders and only three forwards. In any case Parry Sound continued to play a short passing game effectively and went on to pile up a 5-1 win.

Dixie Lee fielded a strong team but they need to develop individual ball handling skills. The next practice will be Thursday, June 14 in Haliburton before the game against Orillia City here at home on Sunday. This will be the first of three consecutive home games.

Parry Sound tops Dixie Lee

Short passing game stymies local team's offense

By JIM MILNE

The Dixie Lee soccer team met a skillful team in Parry Sound last Sunday. Parry Sound scored early in the first half but Haliburton came back to tie the score on a good individual effort by Ivor Thompson. Unfortunately, Dixie Lee suffered from a questionable judgement from the referee which awarded Parry Sound a penalty kick. To their credit the team did not complain but Parry Sound scored on the kick to retake the lead at the end of the half, 2-1.

It was apparent at that point that Parry Sound were dominating play in the mid-field and getting many chances on goal. Perhaps the problem could have been corrected by playing four

A NEW PROPERTY TAX EXEMPTION to help Disabled and Seniors live at home.

Why was this new program introduced?

"Many elderly and disabled people want to live with their families. However, in some cases, providing shelter requires extensive home renovations which result in increased property taxes. We must encourage—not penalize—families for their efforts to provide shelter and supportive care."

Budget Statement—May 15, 1984, The Honourable Larry Grossman, Q.C., Treasurer of Ontario.

Does the program involve direct financial assistance for alterations? No. The savings are in reduced property taxes each year, not in grants or loans for alterations. Under this program, the assessed value of the improvements will not be included when your property tax is calculated, providing the improvements were made to help a disabled or senior live at home.

Who can apply? Any property owner who makes improvements to accommodate people who are 65 or over and those of any age with physical or mental disabilities that would otherwise require them to live in an institution.

Can only the family of a disabled or senior person apply for this exemption? Not necessarily. For example, you may wish to make improvements to accommodate a friend in your home. Moreover, disabled or seniors can apply for the exemption directly, if they make alterations that will enable them to continue living in their own homes.

What about group homes? Non-profit group homes can apply, but only as long as their improved accommodations do not exceed three residential units. Larger institutions operating multiple facilities to care for the disabled or seniors are not included in this program.

Can commercial properties qualify? Yes, in some cases. For example, a family operating a retail store could apply for the exemption if they make improvements to an apartment upstairs for the accommodation of a family member or friend who would otherwise be compelled to live in an institution.

What types of home improvements qualify? Any addition, improvement or alteration specifically related to the needs of the disabled or senior resident qualifies for this new exemption. These may include such features as special bathroom modifications or additions to an existing home. (Please note: general repairs and maintenance do not increase assessment anyway.)

Does the exemption apply to changes underway or completed before the program was announced? Only alterations started after May 15, 1984 when the program was announced will qualify for the property tax exemption once the work has been completed.

How long will the exemption apply? The tax exemption continues as long as the senior or disabled person uses the property as their principal residence.

How do you receive this new property tax exemption? The first step is to call your local Assessment Office at the number listed below. To avoid any possible disappointment, please contact us before finalizing your plans. We look forward to discussing the program in greater detail.

Please talk to your local Assessment Office. We're anxious to help.

The storage on the Haliburton and Peterborough Counties reservoir lakes declined only slightly to 97.7% on June 7. This put the present average level about 4% higher than the 10-year average.

With the end of the surplus in the Kawartha the flow has been reduced to the normal minimum and further declines in these lakes will require replacement with reservoir water. If this situation arises by next week the conditions will be approximately normal for the time of year. Stored water is usually required by about the middle of June.

Lake Simcoe-Couchiching still has a small surplus of about five centimeters, which will probably diminish in the continued hot weather.

Spotty thunderstorm type of precipitation seems to be approximately equaling the evaporation from the Trent-Severn lakes at the present time.

Glamorgan council

A regular meeting of Glamorgan Township council was held on Wednesday, May 2. The following matters were considered:

Accounts were approved for payment as follows: General voucher of $12,481.67; Road voucher of $6,916.80; Welfare Payroll of $3,322.95; O.H.R.P. voucher of $1,567.37; and Recreation Committee voucher of $166.48.

Beverly MacDuff gave a verbal report on the Spring Workshop for Welfare Administrators which she had attended.

Frank Takacs' business with council related to Application for Re-zoning R284-1, and with Applications for Consent H41-84 and H42-84.

Application for Re-zoning R284-1 was accepted for a zone change from Rural to Rural Residential and with no change to the limits of the Environmental Protection Zone, and all of the provisions of By-law 79-14 with regard to the Rural Residential zone shall apply.

Applications for Consent H41/84 and H42/84 were recommended for approval provided that the lots created comply with the provisions of By-law 79-14 and Rural Residential Zone when re-zoned and provided the administration fee of $225 is paid to the Township.

The reeve and clerk were authorized to sign a Quit Claim Deed in favour of Frank Takacs for that part of the Old Monk Road adjoining his lands in Lot 13, Concession 6, lying south of Highway 503.

The preliminary print and correspondence from H. Curry Bishop dated January 6, 1984 was referred to David M. Bishop for recommendation.

The tender for stovewood submitted by Bradley MacDuff was accepted in the amount of $300.

Fortesque Lake Cottagers' Association was granted permission to place direction signs at the intersection of the Contau Lake Rd., and the Fortesque Lake Rd.

The Job Creation Committee was authorized to hire students for the Summer Canada Program.

The clerk treasurer was asked to write to the Haliburton County Historical Society confirming council's support for the Kanawa museum to be kept in the County.

The sum of $2000 was withdrawn from the Reserve for Sick Leave to cover sick leave credits paid out.

serious decline. Several species are generally enfeebled, while on the tallest mountain peaks, from Vermont to North Carolina, the trees are sick and dying. Conclusive proof awaits further scientific study. But circumstantial evidence is overwhelming. Air pollution, especially acid rain, is at the root of this devastation. And judging by a recent report from the prestigious international environmental organization, Worldwatch, Canada's forests are next in line.

Canadians' dependence on the forest is great. Though relatively few people actually cut trees for a living, our manufacturing base, tourism industry and quality of life all rely on a healthy forest resource. Even a 1% drop in growth rates or productivity would be a serious blow. But a much worse scenario may be played out as a result of our unprecedented ecological experiment with pollution.

True, no one theory can yet explain why airborne pollutants have widely differing effects on different forest stands, even stands of the same species. Nevertheless, studies show that incoming acids have caused serious leaching of nutrients, such as calcium and magnesium, from forest soils within a few years. This depletion is compounded by the destruction of the fine roots of trees (which are needed to absorb those nutrients) thought to result from the toxic effect of heavy metals released in the soil as a result of acid rain. Above ground, sulphur dioxide and ozone are known to weaken the structure of tree leaves and make them more attractive to a variety of insect pests, than normal leaves. As the natural defenses which plants and insects have developed against each other are broken down, we tip the balance in favour of insects and create the need for more costly interventions such as pesticide spraying, to restore a shaky equilibrium.

The most frightening aspect of this looming menace is that visible symptoms don't show up until serious damage is done. With billions of dollars in annual revenues at stake, you'd expect the forest industry to be a champion of preventive action now.

Mike Scheffee, Lloyd Curry and Dan Curry put up a strong challenge with healthy catches.

Sympathy of other participants went out to the boat of Howard and Steve Roberts as they were the only crew that the fish ignored all weekend.

All in all it was a great weekend for the boys and plans have already begun for next year's trip.

Northern Lights

By VIRGINIA MUENZEL

You'll never give up...never give up...never give up...that ship!

You say your mother-in-law is coming to spend a month, and you're trying to get the house plastered, and painted, and paneled, and you ran out of paint just before you covered the last square foot of ceiling at the end of the hall, and you've been painting for four days, and your leg muscles all hurt from standing on a ladder.

You say the barn swallows are trying to build a nest over your dining room window, and the glass looks like someone was giving you a mud pack and missed. And Ed keeps hosing down the nest, and the window gets all streaked, and the cats keep jumping up on the screen to see what's going on.

You say your lawyer just called, and told you that it's your tough luck if the U.S. government made an error on your last tax return, and you still get to pay the interest.

You say your furniture is all crammed into two rooms, and there's dust, and dirty dishes, and tools, and a dirty sock, and all your neighbours decide to come calling.

You say you still haven't got all of your seedlings planted, and you forgot to put ashes in with your radishes, and the first ones were all wormy.

You say it was 95 degrees in the shade the other day, and you got sunburned out in the garden trying to beat the quack away from your potatoes, and now your clothes hurt, and you didn't even get to swim in the heat.

You say the car he lets you drive has a flat tire again, and he says you lost the muffler, and you're afraid to drive it anyway 'cause the brakes grab, and the springs sprang.

You say this column was due this morning, and here it is 4:00 p.m., and you can't think of anything to write about except what a crummy week it was. And now that the black flies are gone, the mosquitos and deer flies, and sand flies have arrived to take their place. And somebody swatted a mosquito on your fresh paint after it bit you.

Is that what's eating you chum? Take heart little girl. Don't fret, little girl. Just think, this too shall pass, and next week, or maybe two, you'll have a couple of real finished rooms. The garden will look better after you have time to till. The birds will finally tire of having their nest hosed down, and your mother-in-law loves you anyway. Who knows, maybe Len Pizzev will even accept this column.

Did you know...that many consumers who are not aware of their rights may become easy targets for unscrupulous sales people and con artists?

A sample list of the major consumer pitfalls includes: unneeded home repairs, overcharging, high pressure door-to-door sales or questionable foreign land sales. However, you will find the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations helpful in these and other situations through legislation covering areas such as Consumer Protection, Business Practices, Travel Industry, Motor Vehicle Dealers, Consumer Reporting and Real Estate and Business Brokers Act. For further information about your rights as a consumer, call the Consumer Information Centre at 1-800-268-1142. You may also obtain information regarding crime prevention topics by contacting your local police.

They can offer many prevention tips related to mail fraud schemes, con games, bank examiners and medical frauds, etc.

Please keep in mind that your County Information Centre is here to help people of all ages find solutions to problems including health, social, governmental and environmental subjects. Our office is open Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and we are located in the Drag River Municipal Building (across from Emerson Lumber) in Haliburton.

And remember, you will never know the answer, until you ask the question.

Monday morning, June 4. Well readers, it is a lovely, sunny morning as I write this. The sun is shining brightly and when the sun is shining it makes everything seem just right. The country is beautiful now, the trees are all leafed out. The flowers are lovely too; it is so nice to be about.

There is always an interesting service in the chapel Sunday night, when the Thompsons are there. Ruth came to play the music, and lead the singing. Harold to give the lesson and also offer the prayer. Then Rev. John, bless his heart, always has an interesting message to impart.

Mrs. Stutt had a birthday this last Sunday. Just how many years, I had better not say, or I just might get into a fix. I heard someone say she was 86.

Congratulations to all the ladies who took the six month course for passing their exams with honours. We wish them all the best. We have some clever ladies working here at Hyland Crest.

Fred Banfourth walks to Minden, sometimes three times a day. He says his joints have all stiffened up, so inside he had to stay.

Margrette Sisson is still confined and no longer comes to our dining room table. We don't know how much longer before she will be able.

We watched three movies Monday night, which was really grand: the Rice Country and Snow Monkeys of Japan. In conversation with Heather Bowren's mother, she says Heather is having a grand time, travelling with the friendly ministry group from one country to another. She says she is coming home at the end of June for a month or so. She hopes to return for another year, if she can raise the money.

Tuesday morning the chapel service was conducted by Debbie Vaughan, assistant student to the Rev. George Elliott, who has heavy summer duties to carry on. She delivered a very interesting message. We were much impressed. We will be glad to have you anytime, here at Hyland Crest. And with good health and happiness you'll be truly blessed.

Wednesday morning some of the staff went to Bracebridge to a Seniors' Seminar today. Fern Donnelly has taken over for fun and fitness when Doris is away. She is doing a good job too. She had a nice way of telling us what she wants us to do.

We thanked Daryl Crowe for coming to entertain us Wednesday night. But he told us to remember that he wouldn't be 'back again,' til sometime in September.

Thursday afternoon the Minden bowling ladies came to Hyland Crest and brought

Just over a year ago I attended a forum held in Toronto about Ontario Senior Games. It was very informative and sounded like the seniors who participated had a lot of fun. Because of the commitments Home Support had in providing the services, e.g. Meals on Wheels, Transportation, Home Help, Friendly Visiting, Wheels to Meals and Fone-a-Friend, we just did not have the time necessary to organize these games.

But, as you are probably aware, 'Senior Games' have taken place this past week and approximately 250 participated in the events held in communities throughout the County. The Drop-In Centre for seniors, located adjacent to our office, has made this possible. A co-ordinator, Anna Nichol, has been hired to organize programs for the Drop-In Centre and she undertook to involve volunteers in planning for the games.

We wish to thank all the members of the committee who have spent many hours organizing the events: Bruce Henry, chairman, Bill and Ruby Moughton, Don and Elva Robinson, Norm and Marion. Please turn to Page 12

THE HALIBURTON COUNTY ECHO AND MINDEN RECORDER

Wilberforce News

By WINNIE SCHOFIELD

A farewell party was held at the Legion Hall recently, in honour of Ruby and Eric Yates who have resided in Wilberforce for a number of years. They were entertained by their comrades who were indeed sorry to lose this fine couple. Ruby will be remembered for her untiring efforts as a member of the Ladies Auxiliary while Eric proved his worth as a Legion member, always ready to lend a hand with Legion affairs and also providing valuable assistance the ladies of the Auxiliary with his great slicing ability. He was always willing to slice the meat, cabbage, etc. These good people will be sorely missed. As a parting gift they were given a clock made of cherry wood by a local wood worker and Ruby was presented with a bouquet of silk azalias.

Many good wishes went with them to their new home in Whitby.

On Thursday two plays were presented by the children of the 3rd and 4th grades of the Wilberforce elementary school. The children wrote the plays and took part, showing an early age ability for fun and acting. Stuart Thomson wrote "Hansel and Gretel meet Humpty Dumpty" in which Hansel and Gretel, walking through the woods, are very hungry until they spy Humpty Dumpty who looks promising as a meal. However as he takes his great tumble their meal vanishes, but all is not lost as a company of the King's men appear riding hobby horses. The happy ending comes with the whole cast taking a trip to McDonald's where Ronald McDonald will be their host.

The second play, by Julie Bowen was entitled "Cinderella meets new friends". This also takes place in the woods where Cinderella meets numerous nursery story friends. They are having a party and all is well until the entrance of the Big Bad Wolf who quickly gobbles up all the party food and is making nuisance of himself until, while investigating a fireplace, he leans too far forward and is sent to his doom with a swift push by Hansel. Hansel's efforts are greeted with a big cheer by all. This entertainment was presented through the efforts of teacher Nancy Anderson who designed the scenery and costumes and did a splendid job. Programs for the plays were designed by Jenny Anderson.

It was fun night last Friday evening at the Library. About 30 youngsters were on hand to make a gift for Father's Day. With cardboard plates a background of a marsh scene was created. Birds were flying over a pond with rushes made from thick pieces of coloured wool filling in the foreground. Mothers and friends assisted with the projects.

On Saturday, June 16 at the Legion Hall a buffet supper will be presented to honour fathers. This gives the ladies a chance to enjoy a delicious meal without any of the preparation and clean up and an opportunity to take that important man in your house out to supper. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

Coming up on June 30: a strawberry luncheon will be served in the Memorial Centre by members of the U.C.W. In the evening will be dance in the arena sponsored by the Recreation Committee with music by "Laredo".

In the second Amateur Hill Climb at Bill's Hills, the winners were as follows: in the 80cc class - Glen Horton of Lindsay 1st; Danny Billings of Wilberforce 2nd; and Jeff Graf of Lindsay 3rd.

In the 125cc class - Andrew Grimes of Lindsay was 1st; Bruce Van Beek, Lindsay, 2nd; and Doug Rose, Harwood placed 3rd.

In the 250cc class Ted Wilkins of Kilmount won 1st with 9.88 seconds, Gerry Funk of Gooderham was 2nd with 10.68 seconds and Doug Rose of Harwood took 3rd with 10.76 seconds.

The open class was won by Jamey Keast of Lindsay with 9.72 seconds. Second place went to Steven Davidson of Fenelon Falls with 10.06 seconds, and Bruce Van Beek of Lindsay with 10.11 seconds.

Now the hill will be rebuilt for the professional riders on their nitro burners for the Canadian Championship on July 8.

This handwoven rendering of Newfoundland is one of many rugs and tapestries currently on display at the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton. The show is entitled From Rags to Riches, and runs throughout the month.

Watching the D-Day memorial service last week brought back many memories to a lot of people including myself, who saw many of the troops leaving with the sad knowledge that some would not come back. Though there is sadness in the memories there is also a great feeling of pride in the men and women who so bravely fought the forces of evil.

We are pleased that Bill O'Reilly is home from Haliburton Hospital where he was a patient for two weeks following a heart attack. We

It was with deep regret we learned of the death of Bill Eastman of Markham. Bill was the oldest son of Mrs. Ernie Eastman of RR 2, Minden, who since November 1983 has lost two sisters, two nephews, her husband and now her son. Our prayers and sympathies go out to this family who seem to have a very heavy cross to bear.

After 45 years, Jesse Buxcey's efforts recalled

Chance encounter leads to honour

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

Last week, those who risked their lives on the beaches of Normandy were remembered. Last month, however, the Belgium government acknowledged the valour of a man who helped defend the country five years before the D-Day offensive. After 45 years, Jesse Buxcey's actions in the Second World War have received the recognition they deserve. Buxcey, who presently lives with his wife in Norland, returned to his native country of England this spring to be reunited with a commander who presumed he was dead, and to be honoured by a country which had lost all record of his actions in the war. After 45 years, Jesse Buxcey was found, as the result of a chance meeting in the market place of an English village.

In 1939, Jesse Buxcey spent six months stationed in the Belgian city of Lille. During these first months of the war, Buxcey, who worked as a dispatch rider, had an opportunity to become familiar with the Belgian countryside. Having grown up on a farm, Buxcey was at once struck by the neatness of the country. Every field was trimmed and carefully weeded. "It was just like a garden," Buxcey remembers. In the spring of the same year, however, when the German forces began to mobilize and the 'Phoney War' came to an end, Buxcey witnessed the destruction of this carefully cared for country.

The movement of German troops into Belgium resulted in the first real confrontation in World War Two, and caused many Belgians to leave their homes and flee to the regions of British occupation. "The fighting was very difficult," says Buxcey. "We were trying to fight the Germans and look after refugees at the same time. Actually," he notes, "more civilians were getting killed than troops. At least the troops could defend themselves."

As the fighting continued, the British forces were also hampered by a shortage of supplies. "We had no rations for a month," Buxcey remembers. Because of his farming background and because of his position as dispatch rider, Buxcey was made responsible for finding food for his hungry platoon. He was forced to take animals from local farms and canned goods from local stores. This task, however, was not without its risks. Buxcey refers to one Belgian farm wife who threatened him with a shot gun when he tried to get two rabbits. "I dropped the rabbits," laughs Buxcey, adding that with the help of a few more men who diverted the woman's attention, he eventually did get dinner that night. "There was one time," remembers Buxcey, "when I got tins of fruit jam from a store." "That night," he says, "after I dished out the jam with bread the men started to bring it back, it was paint," he explains. "The fruit on the table was the colour."

One of Buxcey's most vivid memories of the first campaign, however, is of the battle of Dunkirk. He was sent by his commander to survey the situation on the beach. "It was like a beehive," he says. "Men were being slaughtered and there was no where for them to retreat." Eventually, Buxcey and his platoon were forced to retreat. Buxcey was among the last group of British troops to leave the continent on the ship Malcolm. Buxcey remembers swimming out to the ship which had a hole in one side. "When I got there," he says, "I couldn't climb the rope. They had to haul me up on a hook like a fish."

Due to a series of unusual circumstances, however, Buxcey's role in the defence of Belgium in 1939, was not acknowledged for another 45 years. On his return to England, Buxcey was posted to a new platoon and promoted to the rank of Staff Sergeant. In his new position, Buxcey was put in charge of a group of boys. "They were like family to me," he explains. "I treated them like my kids, if I had to give one up, I always kept the weakest one, because I didn't want him to go somewhere else."

In 1940, while Buxcey was training his men in England, all the records of his actions in Belgium were destroyed in the bombing of Canterbury. "The only records was what men knew," he explains, however, in Buxcey's case, memories were also something that were lost.

In 1944, Buxcey found himself once again on a ship in the English Channel. This time, he was in charge of a group of men who had not seen active combat. "I was nine years older than most of them," says Buxcey. "Most had never been overseas before."

Buxcey's platoon was sent in as reinforcements for the troops who had landed on D-Day. After landing in France, they moved inland as German forces were pushed back. On July 10, however, Buxcey's command was brought to an abrupt end when he was hit in the head by a small hand grenade, thrown by a German prisoner.

The injuries which Buxcey received resulted in an almost complete loss of memory. Buxcey, who lost his dog tags the same day in combat, did not know his name or remember his wife and three children. Buxcey's Colonel, who was also wounded the same day, saw him in the first aid station and thought that there was no hope. Buxcey was eventually identified and his family was notified of his injury. Buxcey returned to England, and was operated on by a Canadian doctor, but still, he was unable to remember much of what had happened before 1944.

Buxcey found his loss of memory extremely frustrating. It was difficult to deal with people who said they knew him, but whom he could not remember. As a result, Buxcey's doctor's recommended that he and his family move to a different country and start a new life.

"They suggested we go to Canada or New Zealand," Buxcey explains. "My uncle told me if I went to New Zealand I'd get sick with the heat, so I came to Canada." In Canada, the same doctor who operated on Buxcey overseas, continued to treat him at Toronto's Sunnybrook Hospital. After several years, Buxcey gradually regained some of his memory and was able to piece together various events that had occurred before his injury. It was not until two years ago, however, while Buxcey was visiting relatives in England that his memories of the war finally came together.

One day, while Buxcey walked through the market of the town where his cousin lives, one of the men in his platoon recognized the face of the Staff Sergeant who the soldier had assumed was dead. "He came running across the square. I thought he was drunk and was going to hit him, until he explained to me who he was," remembers Buxcey.

Buxcey was upset to learn that only 27 of the 1001 men who composed the regiment that his platoon had been part of had survived. Of these men, some had died since the war, but the remaining men still met to discuss old times. "He said I was always mentioned at every reunion because they all thought I was crazy for running six or seven miles all the time to keep in shape," Buxcey says.

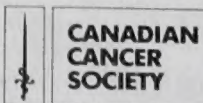

Following this chance meeting, Buxcey's Colonel was informed that he was in fact still living and following two years of planning, a reunion between the two men finally took place this spring. "It was a relief to have him confirm some of the things I remembered," Buxcey notes. "Now I know I wasn't just imagining things."

In addition to meeting the colonel, however, Buxcey was also given a special medal by the Belgian government for the role he played in the defense of that country in 1939. The medal, which has only been awarded to one other Canadian, allows Buxcey to travel to Belgium at any time without a passport or a visa. Although Buxcey has not returned to Belgium since the war, he says he now plans to go there soon. "I saw Brussels burning," he explains, "I'd like to go back and see what the country looks like now."

"Cancer can be beaten..."

I know it can."

"Use what talents you have and be glad you possess them; the woods would be very silent if no birds sang except those that sang best."

We wish a happy birthday to Lorraine Weatherell who celebrated on June 8. We also hope that Lorraine's medical problems will be resolved in the near future and that she will soon be in the best of health.

The Dorset Volunteer Fire Department held their annual pig roast and dance on Saturday, May 26 and it was bigger and better than ever if that is possible. The pork was done to a turn and there was also turkey for those didn't want pork, or couldn't have it. There were numerous other dishes, salads, vegetables and various kinds of potatoes, rolls and butter and a variety of desserts. It was no meal for people on a reducing diet by any means. After dinner there was dancing to Roy Kitchings music which helped overcome any distress from consuming a huge meal and as lively as the dancing was I am sure it did the trick. I just can't wait until next year for a repeat performance.

In honour of Ontario's birthday year the Dorset Public School put on a Pioneer Night last week. The children range in age from 5 to 9 years and really did a great job. They had built a miniature log cabin, had a display of various furs, were making butter in an old fashioned churn, had an old fashioned wash board and tub where a little girl was washing clothes and many other displays reminiscent of olden days. All of the children were in old fashioned clothes, as were the teachers and some of the parents. It was evident that the event was the result of much planning and hard work.

A "Trefoil Tea" was held at the home of Helen Towns of Bracebridge last week and was attended by some ladies from Dorset. It was a pleasant get-together by ladies who had been active in Guiding over the years. Refreshments were served by some local Guides and were enjoyed by all. After tea Division Commissioner Venetia Woodruff announced that she and a couple of ex-Guide leaders had discussed the possibility and desirability of forming a Trefoil Guild which links those who are no longer active in the movement but who are "prepared to carry out the Guide ideals in their daily lives and in the community in which they live and work."

After much discussion it was decided that a guild would be formed. Officers were elected. Rhona McCormack, whose name is synonymous with guiding, as chairman, Helen Towns as secretary and Marie Vancleef as treasurer. The group will meet twice a year and will keep in touch with what is going on in guiding.

There is always something to complain about. The black flies are so thick that one can hardly get out one's door without practically getting carried off.

The Anglicans would like to thank all those who made their rummage sale a success. The customers as well as those who worked so hard preparing things and cleaning up afterwards.

H.H. To make your windows shine use a mixture of vinegar and water, about a cup of vinegar to two quarts of hot water. Wipe the windows with this using newspaper, then polish with newspaper. The ink in the paper makes glass sparkle and is inexpensive.

This boy was one of many children who tried their hand at various games during Victoria Street School's Fun Night last week. Fun Night is an annual event organized by the teachers and students of the school.

Norland Natter

By KELLY GRAHAM

Wow, what a heat wave we've had. While most people are melting I must say I am thoroughly enjoying it.

Congratulations to R.D. Lawrence, a resident writer who recently won a non-fiction prize for his book, "The Ghost Walker". The award was given to honour Canadian writing that reaches literacy excellence without sacrificing popular appeal.

As one who hopes to establish a career as a playwright I find Mr. Lawrence's accomplishments in the field of writing extremely admirable.

Registration for the New Kawartha Water Safety Programme will be held on June 23 at the Lions' Hall in Cobocok. Potential swimmers may also observe tee-shirts that will be on display (to be sold later).

Kinmount Korner

To the new family on the ninth line of Somerville from all your neighbours: congratulations on the birth of a little boy, Michael Thomas was born May 31 at 2:00 p.m. in Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay. He weighed in at six pounds, thirteen and a half ounces and was 20 inches long. Michael is a baby brother to Russell and his mom and dad are Kevin and Barbara Hill.

Welcome home to Karen, Bruce and Genevieve Newman of Havendale Cres., Kinmount. They arrived home Sunday morning, June 3 from a month long trip out to western points of Canada, visiting many friends and relatives.

I was sorry to hear Gordon Campbell of Norland is in Intensive Care at Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay. Gordon underwent surgery at 8:00 a.m. Wednesday, June 6. Get well very soon Gordon, you're missed around your corner.

I was pleased to hear Vi Cooke is at her home in Irondale again following her stay in hospital and coming along better each day.

Betty Stuart of the Dutch Line is home from hospital and looking beautiful following her surgery. She would like to thank all her friends and neighbours for their cards, flowers, fruit baskets and well wishes along with all the visits during the time in hospital and since coming home.

Happy 45th wedding anniversary to our neighbours, Joan and Ken Hyams, on Sunday, June 10.

If you'd like to have a pretty black and white Border Collie, two years old and house trained, call 488-2515.

There will be a Canada Day Dance on June 30 from 8:30 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. at the Galway Hall on Galway Road off Highway 121, four miles south of Kinmount. There will be door and spot prizes, plus a buffet lunch. Music will be supplied by Annita Lister and North Country. For reservations call 488-2217, 488-2000, or 488-2456. All proceeds are donated to the Galway building fund. Get some friends together and go enjoy an evening out. It will do you good.

Another big time to look forward to is the Kinmount Civic Action Committee Bicentennial Celebration to be held at the Kinmount Fairgrounds on Sunday, July 1, beginning at 2:00 p.m. There will be something for everybody there to enjoy. There will be a delicious roast beef dinner at 6:30 p.m. and tickets in advance for this will be $6.50 or $7.50 at the door. There's a 12:00 noon deadline for those who wish to enter their sewing or baking skills in the contest. Baking will be auctioned off at 5:30 p.m. It sounds like one terrific day coming up what with the crafts, hay and pony rides, horseshoe pitching, races and entertainment for old and young, pioneer open fashion show, square dancing, fireworks and an Ecumenical church service at 8:00 p.m. There will be a food concession open throughout the day and lots of antiques and pioneer crafts on display. I sure plan on being there and hope you will too.

Also, on Saturday, June 30, at 11:00 a.m. Open House will be held at the Kinmount Railway Station and that certainly will be a very interesting day.

Six of the Horticultural Society members turned out last Wednesday evening to dig, pull weeds, plant and water flowers around the Cenotaph, across the front of the bank and shop next to it, across the front of the Community and Library Hall and planted two large wooden tubs placed in front of the Railroad Station. Now let's hope some friendly people will think to give all our work a drink once in a while. It's sad to see that a few people work so hard to try and make things nicer and others care so little. A picnic table that our Horticultural group purchased and had placed in the little parkette beside the Cenotaph had been moved to suit someone else and we moved it back where it belongs but in just one year the complete top of that table is gouged out with initials, names, etc. Believe me, you'd be better remembered if you'd offer to put a coat of stain on it. Then, while digging and pulling weeds in the Cenotaph area, you'd be amazed, or would you, at the garbage carelessly tossed in there. Cigarette packages, pop tins, paper scraps, you name it. Ever since I was a little girl, a few years back, I always considered a war memorial a kind of sacred place, but I guess the world has changed. As I said before, it's sad.

Jennie Ash and her son George, both of Toronto, and a daughter, Irene Farley of Pasadena, California, visited with Mary L. and John Pyke at their Norland home on Wednesday, June 6. While there, Helen and Alex Graham and Bill Moss Jr. stopped in to visit with them awhile. The visitors also stopped in for a visit with Clyde Pardy at Pardy's Variety in Lindsay.

Some of our people are spending their weekends at the trailer parks now that the weather is nicer. I hope the black flies and mosquitos don't do them in.

Well folks, stay well and happy, read the Echo and remember - there's only one thing standing in the way of faster drivers - and that's pedestrians.

I'm still at 488-2353.

"There is a facelift you can perform yourself and it is guaranteed to improve your appearance. It is called a smile."

Well, the H. H. and H. days are with us and although they are pretty sticky they have warmed the lake water so it is possible to get in and cool off. Admittedly, it is not "bath tub" warm and you have to be rather a hardy soul to venture in, it is six days earlier than last year. I, for one, braved the chilly depths. And one doesn't loiter too long, either.

Belated birthday wishes to Kate MacKay who celebrated on June 9. I'm sorry we missed you last week, Kate. Happy birthday wishes to Joey Rutkowski who will be eight years old on June 14.

The foot clinic will be on Wednesday, June 20. This will be the last clinic until September. Call for appointments at 766-2237.

On Friday, June 1 Canada's Wonderland held their first annual Girl Guide Days Campout with over 4000 girls and leaders enjoying their hospitality. From the Dorset area there were 20 Brownies, Guides and Pathfinders with seven leaders and adults. They went by bus Friday evening and after getting settled in their tents, of which there were hundreds, they were entertained at International Place in Wonderland. With the excitement of the experience there was a great deal of chattering by little girls and not a great deal of sleep was enjoyed by anyone. They broke camp in the morning, breakfast and lunch were provided, and they enjoyed a day of free rides and fun for everyone at Wonderland. It was a thrilling experience for the girls and they boarded the bus that evening for home tired but happy and will long remember the weekend.

We wish to express our sympathy to the community to the family of Mrs. Lillian Bigelow who died on Friday, June 1. Mrs. Bigelow and her husband, Joseph, are both from pioneer families in the area, and family members still live here. Funeral services were held at Revnolds Funeral Home, Bracebridge with interment at Paint Lake Cemetery. Sympathy is also extended to the family of Mrs. Daisy McLeod, of Paint Lake, who died at Huntsville Hospital on June 1.

There was a get-together for the cancer canvassers held in the Poppy room of the Legion in Huntsville, arranged by June Higgs, president of the local chapter. She reported that they had exceeded their goal by over $1000. After reports were given a film, which was very informative, was shown. Millie McEachern and I attended. Delicious refreshments were served. Any expense for the event was covered by the Legion Auxiliary whom we thank.

On June 24 the United Church congregational picnic will be held at Bondi Lodge. This includes the three points and the outdoor service will be at 11:30 a.m. followed by lunch and then fun time with games, swimming, etc. The congregation are asked to bring dessert and lawn chairs.

Joe Bigelow and his family would like to express their thanks and appreciation for all the kindness and thoughtfulness of all of their friends and neighbours during their recent bereavement.

Knox United Church are holding their 19th annual auction sale on Saturday, June 30 at the Township Garage, next to the Dorset Community Centre, beginning at 6:30 p.m. On the same day they are holding a bake sale and flea market in the Community Centre beginning at 2 p.m. They would appreciate donations for any of these events. Refreshments will be available at the site. If you wish donations picked up you may call any of the following numbers: Roy MacKay, 2437; Robinson's Store, 2415; Ted Morris, 2257; Mike Buss, 2913; Ted Sage, 2384.

Patriotism ran strongly in the hearts and minds of many Canadian settlers who harboured fond memories of the 'Old Country', and expressed their feelings in hand crafted rugs, such as this one now on display at the gallery in Haliburton.

Nursing Home week planned

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

June 17 to June 23 has been designated as Ontario Nursing Home Week by the provincial association of nursing homes. Throughout this week, special activities will be held both at Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home in Minden and at Extencicare in Haliburton.

Special events at Extencicare include a Scottish Tea party and a visit by local Kindergarten students on June 18, as well as a bake sale to be held on Saturday, June 23, on Highland Street in Haliburton. In addition, a special birthday party will be held on June 21 to mark the 25th anniversary of the Ontario Nursing Home Association.

Residents of Hyland Crest will celebrate the week with a trip to the Leslie Frost Natural Resources Centre where they will picnic and be taken on a tour of the centre.

In conjunction with Nursing Home Week, a province-wide campaign to raise funds to support research into the causes and treatment of Alzheimer's disease will also be held. Residents of both Hyland Crest and Extencicare will take part in a Bowl-a-thon at Extencicare on the afternoon of June 19 in order to raise money for this cause. Pledges made to the Bowl-a-thon will be based on the accumulated points of the Extencicare and Hyland Crest teams.

Alzheimer's is a disease which affects the brain and results in loss of memory and learning ability. It is the fourth most common cause of death among Canadians. At present, there is no known cure for the disease.

Gallery may get more boxcars

Canadian National Railways has agreed to donate two more box cars to the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton. CN made the offer in a letter to Dysart et al council.

The box cars could go by rail to Lindsay, but would have to be brought to Haliburton on flat bed trucks. They would be set on rails beside the station platform and used for storage, as is the boxcar which is already in place at the gallery.

Agricultural Report

By CARM HAMILTON
Agricultural Representative

Beef and Lamb Incentives Announced

Details of the Productivity Incentives Program for beef and lamb producers in Ontario were announced by the Honourable Dennis Timbrell, Minister of Agriculture and Food, late last week. These initiatives are part of the Red Meat Plan and have been developed by a committee of beef and lamb industry representatives and Ministry staff.

The programs in this section are designed to encourage the improvement of the productivity and efficiency of beef and lamb producers. The sum of $62.5 million has been earmarked for this program over the next five years.

While there are six general programs within this section, three are of special interest to producers in East Central Ontario. These are the cow-calf, cattle feeding and sheep development sections.

Full details on the program will be included in the June issue of "OMAF News".

Goat Society holds skills workshop

By ERNEST HILLS

In their final general meeting before the hectic summer schedule with the fairs and bicentennial celebrations, the Haliburton Highlands Goat Society held a workshop on Saturday, June 2. The concept of the workshop is to bring together people who have an area of expertise in the field of animal health or maintenance, and they demonstrate their technique to the membership in general.

Approximately 20 people attended, in an effort to keep the blackflies well fed, and witnessed such undertakings as hoof trimming, clipping and tattooing. The informal atmosphere permitted for discussion and questions to co-incide with the actual demonstrations. We would like to thank all those who conducted the demonstrations, and to express our appreciation to Russ and June Warren for their continued support of our organization. Both are executive members of the Huronia Goat Club.

One of the most attentive sessions conducted was run by Dr. Peter Bennett, who demonstrated some castration techniques on young bucks. Of particular note was the use of the new chemical castrator, which is injected into the animals' testes. Aside from the discomfort of the needle this process eliminates the pain and discomfort of either pinchers or surgery.

This technique was demonstrated on two of Sharon Greer's young buck kids, and Sharon has undertaken to report back to the membership as to its effectiveness, as well as the stress factor and recovery time on the young kids.

Dr. Bennett demonstrated the other means of castration and fielded questions from the membership. We sincerely appreciate Dr. Bennett's attending the workshop and his input on a number of veterinary-related topics besides castration. Dr.

Benett shares an excellent rapport with many members of the goat society.

A final word of thanks to Ken Alger, who organized the workshop for the club, and to the Kinmount Fair Board for permitting us to use the fair grounds to hold the event.

Please look for our displays and promotional activities at the various events and celebrations this summer, and know that you always welcome to come up and ask questions or talk goats with us. Hope to see you!

To the membership of the Haliburton Highlands Goat Society: redemption is at hand! We are looking for volunteers for the many events coming up during the summer. Even if you can only volunteer your time for one day, or a few hours of one day.

Wednesday, June 20 at 8 p.m. in the Haliburton County Fair grounds in Minden, we are asking you to meet with us to establish a schedule and the various committees, with specific undertakings. Let's see as many of you as possible please.

The firm of Tobias and Bagshaw having successfully argued and received a reduction by the Taxing Officer of the Supreme Court of Ontario in regard to the Bill of Cost awarded to KBL Bridge Association; and the municipality having been informed that the net amount due is $4,331.80; council directed the clerk to make payable to KBL Bridge Association a cheque in the amount of $3,331.80 being $1,000 less to meet the obligation agreed by KBL Bridge Association under Agreement signed the 11th day of March, 1983 to pay up to $1,000 for the preparation of the Agreement.

Council approved the payment of 1984 Insurance Premiums from General Account in the amount of $5,833.00 less credits received in the amount of $239.00. Net Insurance premiums being $5,594.00.

Council approved payment of insurance premium in the amount of $327 to cover a 1979 Chev 1/2 ton Fire Truck located at the Oxtongue Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

John Eakins, M.P.P. (Victoria-Haliburton) letter to Deputy-Minister, Ministry of Natural Resources, John Sloan was discussed and tentative dates noted by council for their visitation to Queen's Park were: Thursday, May 31 or Friday, June 1, 1984.

The clerk informed council that an invoice had been received to purchase a Port-A-Room building.

Council directed the clerk to pay invoice no. 4196 from Port-A-Room Manufacturing Limited in the amount of $12,854.87 representing payment in full.

Councillor Marilyn Jarvis and the clerk reported to council that they had visited Humphrey Homes Ltd. in Severn Bridge on Friday, May 11 at which time a quote for custom-made drapes was received to supply this municipality for use in the Port-A-Room.

Council directed the clerk to renew land use permit with the Ministry of Natural Resources at a fee of $50 for a period covering June 15, 1984 to June 14, 1985.

It was noted that whereas authority is given under Section 210, subsection 29 of the Municipal Act, R.S.O. Chapter 302, that by-laws may be passed by the councils of local municipalities for prohibiting and regulating the discharge of guns or other firearms air guns or spring-guns or any class or type thereof in the municipality or in any defined area thereof; the council for the municipality passed a by-law the 14th day of May, 1984 to prohibit the discharge of guns or firearms within 300 yards of the working area of any municipal garbage disposal site, between the first day of January and the thirty-first day of December in each and every year. A fine or penalty has been applied at $100 for the first offence upon conviction and not more than $500 upon conviction for each succeeding offence, exclusive of costs.

Grace Maxwell of St. Catharines is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, George and Marion Maxwell. Grace Billings, accompanied by her sister, Rita, is visiting their brother, Roy, and his family, in Chatham.

Congratulations to Mrs. Lulu Dovell who celebrated her 90th birthday on Wednesday, June 6. All her family were present to honour her with a surprise party at her home on the previous Saturday. She returned with her grand-daughter Carol Dawson, for a few days' visit in Peterborough. She remarked that she gave thanks each day for her many blessings which exemplifies her wholesome philosophy. We all wish her continued health and happiness.

This is an ideal and attractive place to rest awhile, have a coffee, meet a friend, or participate in the activities planned by the co-ordinator, Anna Nichol, for each day.
